

What's New?

NPEFS FY2008

NPEFS Updates

- Comment Box Character Count: Please note that comment boxes have a maximum length of 1,000 characters. We have implemented a character count feature and added warning messages to alert respondents that their comments will be truncated if they exceed 1,000 characters.
- Instruction Manual Update: For ease of navigation, the NPEFS Instruction Manual Table of Contents now contains hyperlinks to the associated sections.

Crosswalk Updates

- Amounts: NCES's requirements state that amounts are to be reported in whole dollars. Upon import, any state account data containing cents will now be rounded to the nearest dollar.
- Comments: Comments made within NPEFS web pages will no longer be deleted if the respondent returns to the Crosswalk System. When the data are re-transferred to NPEFS, any previously made comments should be reviewed to confirm they still apply.
- Missing Translation Records: Respondents no longer have to re-translate their data each time a state data record with a missing translation record is resolved. You can resolve all the "missing translation record" problems, and then re-translate to confirm that no new "missing translation record" problems are found.
